

The Mission Statement of the Seneca Wrestling Program

Wrestling meets the needs of anyone, regardless of weight, height, or physical make-up. It is one of the world's greatest competitive individual sports, providing the athlete with means for self-expression, responsibility, self-discipline, ability to make split-second decisions, and confidence which comes about from his own intelligence, determination, and physical prowess.

When our wrestlers graduate from the program we want them to understand what it means to be men of character, men of integrity, and Champions. Every year we will strive to win individual and team titles. In the process we want our young wrestlers to know what hard work is, and the results of making the right choices in life. If our wrestlers never win a state title or individual title, but go on to be men of integrity and character, the program has done its job.

Everyone makes mistakes...it's in our nature. So it is not what a person necessarily does right the first time that makes them men of character (although we push them to make right choices from the start), it is the steps they take to fix what they did wrong that makes them young men of character. We hope to facilitate this in every way possible in our wrestling room.

At the same time, we are one minded in reaching our goal to win team titles. This takes many young men working very hard and believing in what we do. It is our hope that the athletes in the Seneca Wrestling program learn the value of team work, dedication, determination, desire, respect, and working hard toward attaining goals. This will hopefully translate into becoming not only better student athletes, but better people as well.
